The music department for which the school has been famous for many school has been famous for many years, made a good showing, directed by Professor Edward Blumenberg and Professor Herman M. Schockey, the latter playing the plano accompaniments to the vocal numbers, and Professor Blumenberg assisting the violin school. The entrance and exit marches, a feature of commencement exercises, were splendidly played by Misses Frances Montague, Mirlam Ackenhell, Teresa Hanifan, Clara Paff, tplanos), and Misses Almec Quinn, Nellie Caldwell, Nellie Stephenson, (violins). The other instrumental work consisted of Schubert's "Overture zu Rosamunde," finely interpreted by Miss Loretta Hannon, Nellie Schmidt, Almee Quinn, Blanche Haas, Brahm's "Ungardsche Tanz No. 2." planos, was brilliantly given by Miss Emma Reymann, Svendsen's "Romance, 'for violin, was played by Miss Almee Quinn, a very talented young lady. Each performance proved careful training and reflected to the credit of the teachers. The vocal numbers were all concerted ones and showed to the best advantage the voice ability of the year. Beethoven's beautiful chorus, "The Heavens are telling," was sung by the school, and Clappisson's "La Chasse aux Papillons" was given by the class with much style. "By the Waters of Babylon," a four part sons (Neldlinger) was rendered most, effectively by Misses Teresa Hanifan, Clara Gibney, Laura Dick, Rose O'Brien, Josephine Nesbonne, Myrtle McNamee, Bianche Haase, Emma Forbes, "The Gypsies." (Brahms), was sweetly sung by Miss Blanche Haase and Miss Nelle Schmidt. The musical enjoyment of the programmed doings of the afternoon was not the least feature of an enjoyable arrangement and splendidly upheld the reputation of the first turner. years, made a good showing.

TO-DAY'S GAMES, Fort Wayne at Wheeling, Grand Rapids at Mansfield, Youngstown at Dayton, New Custle at Toledo.

It was a battle royal between Wheeling and Fort Wayne yesterday after-noon, and that Fort Wayne won may be ascribed to the dirty work of "Jack" Glasscock, the captain and first base-man of the visiting team. When "Jack" first appeared on the field he was given a flattering reception at the hands of his friends, but ten minutes later the fellows who had been cheering were engaged in hissing him.

It was a pitchers' battle, and if Parvin had received the support accorded Swaim, the result would have been different, perhaps. The Southern leaguer pitched the finest quality of ball ever witnessed here. The visitors hit him for two singles, and in the ninth a slow infield hit to Niles, which the latter could not probably have fielded to first in time, brought the total up to three. Swaim, too, was in fine fettle, the Stogles getting only six singles. In a pinch Swaim was especially strong. The game was won in the fifth, when Fort Wayne's two and the only runs of the game were made. "Doggy" Miller led off with a corking single that made Parvin duck for his life. Just as Parvin was pitching to Glasscock, Miller started for second. Glasscock struck at the ball, missed it, and then, as claimed by the Wheeling players and many specta-tors, he deliberately stepped in front of Twineham, causing him to throw to one side of second, thus giving Miller his base. As Twineham was throwing out of sight, he would doubtless have caught Miller without any trouble. Glasscock hit to Taylor, who fumbled, giving "Jack" a life and sending Miller to third. Glasscock stole second. On Hollingsworth's bounder Babb fell down, allowing Miller to score. Glasscock started for a daring steal of third; Twineham threw wild, the ball going out into left field, and Glasscock came in with the second run. Bergen hit for a single, and Hollingsworth was thrown out at third on the throw in from Wells. On Parvin's error, the fourth of the inning, Swaim was safe, but the side was retired on Flood's fly to Dobbs.

Wheeling missed a great chance in the third inning. With Lyons an out, Niles made a scratch single, Twineham was the second out, but Babb was safe Hollingsworth's error, and a base on balls to Wells filled the bases. Much depended upon Parvin, but the best he could do was a strike out.

BASE BALL COMMENT.

Poole and Guese will be the opposing pitchers in the second game of the Wheeling-Fort Wayne series this afternoon. Guese was with New Castle After a short Western league experience he was secured by Glasscock this spring, and is pitching great ball. The game ought to be an exciting one, but Poole can be counted on to win out if he gets the support Wheeling usually accords its pitchers.

No less than four men who have played third base for Pittsburgh were in yesterday's Fort Wayne-Wheeling game, and they were divided equally between the two teams—Lyons and Niles with the Wheelings, and Keulme and Miller with Fort Wayne. Other players on the two teams who have been in the big league were Taylor and Lytie, of the Wheelings, and Glass-cock and Swaim, of the Fort Waynes.

PERSONAL NOTES.

Going and Coming of Wheeling

Governor and Mrs. G. W. Atkinson arrived in Wheeling last night from Kingwood, where they attended marriage of Secretary of State W. M. O. Dawson, to Miss Maude Brown, of Kingwood, and this morning they will leave for Delaware, O., to attend the commencement of the Ohlo Wesleyan University, of which institution the governor is an alumnus and a member of the board of trustees, having been a member for fourteen years. Governor and Mrs. Atkinson stopped at the Stamm, Monday evening the governor will deliver an address to the graduating class of Scio college, which is temporarily located at New Philadelphia, and being also a trustee will help decide the permanent home of the college, New Philadelphia and Cadiz are bidders in the field and there is a proposition to merge the school into Mt. Union college, at Alliance. The governor favors the latter plan first, and secondly is for Cadiz.

Governor Atkinson is a member of the member for fourteen years. Governor

Cadla.

Governor Atkinson is a member of the board of trustees of Buckhannon Seminary and last night he said he intended ceasing connection in that capacity with so many schools, as they consumed too much of his time. He had intended demuch of his time. He had intended de-livering an address at Bethann's com-mencement yesterday, but was unable to do so, on account of the Dawson-Brown nuptials at Kingwood. The governor regrets his inability to attend the state university's commencement, which occurs while he will be at New Philadelphia. He hadn't expected the Morgantown commencement to occur so late in June, for it usually is held much earlier in the month.

State Mine Inspector J. W. P. came up from Charleston last night. Colonel Charley T. Caldwell, of Parkersburg, was in the city yesterday. Mrs. Weller, Mrs. Gardiner and Mrs. D. D. Nolan, of Sistersville, registered at the Stamm yesterday.
